The content, pictures and logos of this presentation are proprietary and cannot be duplicated or replicated without prior written consent of the Urban Youth Racing School, What It Takes Foundation, United Way of Southeastern PA, The John S. and James L. Knight Foundation or iCouldBe.org.
WIT Symposium 7
Program Overview
Outcomes and Measures
E-mentoring Platform

Online Safety

Required fields

Please provide the following information:

For best results with the identity verification process, please follow these guidelines:

- Enter your home address, not your business or school address.
- Enter your full legal name, not your nickname.
- Please do not use symbols like "#" in your address. For example, enter Apt 262, not Apt #262.

First Name:
Last Name:
Salutation: Select one →

icouldbe User Name:

Your username will be used for your online profile, e.g., "Retro55" (it must be 4–15 characters, no blank spaces or symbols. This can be anything as long it doesn’t portray your identity. Choose carefully - your username cannot be changed. Please write down your Mentor Recruitment

- Social Media
- Special Events
- Word of Mouth

Mentee Recruitment

- School(s) Selection
- Role of School Coordinator
- Roster in Schedule or Afterschool Activity
Mentor Training

- Technology usage
- Tailored online training, webinars

Mentee Training

- Appropriate use of technology
- Tailored online training
- School coordinator leverage
Matching and Activities

- Online projects
- Specialized webcast messages
- Symposia
- Youth conference

Support

- Online learning community
Partners

Urban Youth Racing School’s What It Takes Foundation

United Way of Southeastern PA’s Campaign for Mentoring

John S. and James L. Knight Foundation
Major Lessons Learned

• E-mentoring platform selection
• Incorporation of specialized curriculum to address needs of the target population
• Importance of planning
For Additional Information:

Michelle Martin, WIT Project Director
m.martin@whatittakes.me

Dr. Ashaki Coleman, WIT Program Manager
dr.coleman@whatittakes.me

Register to Be a Mentor
www.whatittakes.me
Questions
Thank You

Lynda Terrell
Senior Manager, Mentoring and Special Projects
United Way of Southeastern Pennsylvania
January 25, 2012