

National Mentoring Month Ambassadors

The successful implementation of National Mentoring Month in individual media markets depends on the support and participation of local media outlets, businesses, faith-based institutions, membership organizations, schools and nonprofits in the mentoring field. In each state, National Mentoring Month Ambassadors are responsible for coordinating a community's activities to take maximum advantage of National Mentoring Month. Preference will be given to existing Mentoring Partnerships in these areas. Should a Mentoring Partnership decline or not satisfy the selection criteria, or should a Mentoring Partnership not exist in a given area, consideration will then be given to other interested organizations.

The following are the current National Mentoring Month Ambassadors. If you are a mentoring organization, program or other community program interested in participating in local activities, please reach out directly to the Ambassador in your area.
