Expand Investment in Quality Youth Mentoring by supporting $120 million for the Youth Mentoring Program grant at the Department of Justice in FY21.

- The Commerce, Justice, Science Appropriations Committees fund the Youth Mentoring Program managed by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) at the Department of Justice (DOJ). The competitive grant is a critical support for young people who are at-risk of entering the juvenile justice system and has assisted hundreds of thousands of young people in achieving positive academic and professional outcomes. We request $120 million in funding for the Youth Mentoring Grant in FY21.

- A Dear Colleague letter will be circulated by Rep. Langevin (RI-02) and Rep. Yoho (FL-03) in the House and Senator Blumenthal (CT) in the Senate calling for robust investment of the youth mentoring grant in FY21.

Support the Foster Youth Mentoring Act to establish support for mentoring programs that serve youth in the foster care system.

- The Foster Youth Mentoring Act provides support for mentoring programs that serve youth in the foster care system. The Foster Youth Mentoring Act creates grants to establish or expand mentoring programs that serve foster youth. The bill seeks to fill a gap to provide foster youth with access to social capital and resources to support their emotional, academic, and career development.

Support the Chronic Absenteeism Reduction in Every School (CARES) Act in order to support strategically addressing issues related to chronic absenteeism in schools.

- The CARES Act would establish school-based programs that pair mentors with students who are chronically absent and provide them with the necessary support systems to achieve success. The bill’s comprehensive approach to reducing chronic absenteeism uses real-time data collection on attendance, strategic integration of social services for tailored interventions and quality mentoring relationships to support students.

Join the Congressional Youth Mentoring Caucus to support the important work that youth mentoring programs across the country lead every day.

- The bipartisan Congressional Youth Mentoring Caucus hosts briefings, events, and plans to introduce bipartisan legislation as a Caucus related to youth mentoring. It also serves as a forum for members of Congress to discuss strategies and policies to improve the quality of mentoring and the quantity of volunteer mentors.

- In the 116th Congress, 2nd session, The Congressional Youth Mentoring Caucus plans to host briefings on mentoring youth impacted by opioid/substance misuse and abuse, school-based mentoring and school climate, how federal funds support mentoring programs, and issues relevant to specific states and regions.

Mentoring and College Access and Persistence: Mentoring is an important support strategy for students who are exploring plans to attend college or are currently enrolled. First-generation students, students from low-income families and underrepresented groups benefit from the academic, and social emotional support that mentors can provide as they navigate higher education. Research also demonstrates that mentoring can provide students with information and preparation about the admissions process and can help high school students achieve their academic goals towards college.

Youth unemployment, mentoring and infrastructure: Approximately 5.5 million youth (ages 16-24) are disconnected from school or work. These young people are looking for opportunities to contribute to the private and public sector workforce in their communities. Mentoring, on the job training, and apprenticeships can support their transition into the workforce while offering skills that provide a pathway to a career.

Mentoring and Inclusion for young people with disabilities: Youth with disabilities often face barriers in lower expectations, fewer role models, and limited access to extracurricular activities and work experience; navigating the transition from school to post-secondary education and job placement can be especially challenging. Mentors can provide a critical support to these young people by enabling them to explore educational opportunities, social networks, and career pathways.

Mentoring youth survivors of commercial sexual exploitation: The DOJ estimates the average age of entry into the commercial sex industry is 12-14 years old in the U.S. A study of girls who were commercially sex trafficked found that two of their most pressing needs were assistance in escape and mentoring or support from someone they could trust. This proposed bill would provide mentoring support to organizations that serve this population and provide them with the properly trained caring adults they deserve.
